The Milky Sea of Guishan Island in Yilan is an active volcano, and hot springs gushes out from the bottom of the sea every day. When the high-temperature sulfur springs merge with seawater, the sea surface will take on a gradient of milky white and sky blue, extending all the way to half of the coastline of Guishan., very beautiful, this is the origin of the "milk sea". From May to September, the weather is hot and the wind and waves are stable. It is the most suitable day for chartering a boat. This summer, take an orange cat sailing boat, get away from the hustle and bustle of the city and experience the life of an ocean island in depth, and give yourself a summer vacation for your busy self.
